VuNow POD enables consumers to watch millions of free online videos – directly on their TVs

Mountain View, CA, April 3, 2009 – Verismo Networks announced that consumers are now able to purchase the award-winning VuNow HD PoD on Amazon. VuNow reinvents home entertainment, letting users watch millions of free Internet videos directly on their television – not their computer.

The VuNow HD PoD is a sleek, palm-sized device that plugs into any television to provide instant access to a wide range of Internet video content. Verismo's intuitive user interface lets users easily navigate, search, and select content with a click of the remote.

VuNow offers the widest selection of Internet videos for the TV including videos from YouTube™, videos from popular web sites, live TV channels, movies, as well as access to personal media (such as video, music, and photos) from the home network or USB-enabled storage devices. There are no subscription fees associated with VuNow; users simply plug in the box to the TV, connect to the Internet and get started.

Verismo's VuNow is the only solution that provides everything a consumer wants – access to the broadest online content, ease of use and installation, and compact size – all at an affordable price.

“We're excited to join the Amazon community and make our products easily available to the millions of Amazon.com shoppers,” said Dhaval Ajmera, Executive VP at Verismo Networks. “The Internet is clearly becoming the largest network for video entertainment. Our unique platform lets users view millions of internet videos directly on the TV in the comfort of their living room.”
