Verismo Networks and Net2Vu team up to bring Internet TV to the Caribbean

Caribbean Company, Net2Vu, First to Deliver Revolutionary Service to the Area

Mountain View, CA, December 2, 2009 – Young Internet savvy audiences have increasingly been moving away from traditional TV watching, to on-demand video watching and movie downloads on their PC's and other connected appliances. Net2Vu, a Caribbean based Internet entertainment company, has partnered with Verismo Networks and their award winning Internet TV Platform, to bring these young people back to the living room and unite families with HD quality Internet Video on the TV.

Net2Vu Inc. now delivers to its customers in the Caribbean region TV channels from all over the world, Over The Top Video services from hundreds of video web sites, Online radio & TV stations, and movies on demand delivered directly to TV's through the power of Broadband Internet, under the brand Net2Vu.

The new service is delivered to consumers in the Caribbean through a small Net2Vu PoD which fits in the palm of the hand. In addition, through agreements with 3rd party providers, consumers can subscribe to premium live and on-Demand video content delivered directly to their TV sets through the Internet.

Verismo Networks Executive Vice President Dhaval Ajmera said "The Caribbean region is an important market for delivery and consumption of Internet media. Net2Vu is well positioned to lead the Internet TV revolution and we are extremely pleased to be their technology partner of choice.

Net2Vu CEO Scott Weatherhead said "After a long two year search for a viable Internet TV service, we were absolutely amazed by the depth of features available on the Verismo Networks' VuNow platform. We evaluated many platforms from top technology providers in the Internet TV industry. The VuNow platform simply takes the lead!

Weatherhead said "Verismo Networks' vision of the future delivery of Internet Video content is closely aligned with our own. Their team understands where this technology is going. They have developed a feature rich, open and complete Internet TV platform that has no equivalent anywhere in the world."

The Net2Vu service is expected to be available across the Caribbean through retail outlets in December 2009.
